

The Future at Work LEADERSHIP NETWORK

The Future at Work Leadership Network is a LeadersUp initiative that supports hiring managers and business leaders in recruiting, retaining and managing an untapped and diverse talent market - Opportunity Youth. Opportunity Youth are the 5.5 million young adults ages 16-24 that are out of school and not working. This key population represents the future of our workforce and the talent businesses need today to fill critical entry to mid-skill level roles.

The Future at Work Leadership Network convenes leaders in business, human resources, corporate social responsibility, diversity and inclusion and other fields quarterly to share best practices, strategic insights and the return on investment for building a talent pipeline comprised of Opportunity Youth.

Members of The Future at Work Leadership Network represent small and large companies, a diverse range of industries and have a shared commitment to strengthening their recruitment and retention strategies to be diverse, inclusive and adaptable to global multicultural workforce trends.

The Future at Work Leadership Network will unlock new markets of talent for employers by:

Teaching tools and best practices that adapt to the rapidly changing demographics in the workplace.

Providing cross-sector hiring and retention solutions to help organizations fill urgent talent vacancies
